The statistics given in this publication should be read in conjunction with the Official Year Book of New South Wales. For the latest figures in the principal statistical series, the reader should refer to other publications of the Bureau, particularly the Statistical Bulletin and the Monthly Summary of Business Statistics.

My thanks are tendered to the responsible officers of the various State and Commonwealth authorities and to others who have supplied information, often at considerable trouble.

† High schools are separate units providing a full secondary course of five years. “Secondary” schools are separate units providing secondary instruction for three or more years, or units being developed into “secondary” schools. Central schools and the Correspondence school include both a secondary and a primary department.

‡ Composite courses in secondary education are provided at primary schools in country districts where secondary schools are not readily accessible. In 1962, this type of instruction was provided for 1,308 pupils.

¶ Nursery departments attached to primary schools.

Subsidised Schools. Subsidies are granted in the case of children resident in country districts so far removed from any public school that attendance is impracticable. Where a private teacher, approved by the Minister, is engaged by one or more families, subsidy is paid to the teacher at a rate based on the average monthly attendance of children; in 1962, the rates ranged from 10s. to £1 9s. per day in eastern section of the State, and from 12s. 6d. to £1 13s. in the western section.

No. 28. Private Schools: Pupils and Teachers, 1952 to 1962

Note. Any private school attended by children of statutory school age must be certified by the Minister for Education as efficient (taking into account the standard of instruction, qualifications of the teachers, suitability of school premises, and general conduct of the school). Private secondary schools must be registered for the education of pupils holding State bursaries under the Bursary Endowment Act. Certified schools at private charitable institutions are included in statistics of private schools; business schools, ecclesiastical seminaries, and uncertified nursery and kindergarten schools are not included.

No. 28. Mental Hospitals: Beds, Staff, and Patients, 1952 to 1962

Note. Tables 28 to 33 relate to persons classified as "temporary" or "continued treatment" patients (and comparable groups of patients before March, 1959) at State mental hospitals (excluding admission centres) and authorised private mental hospitals in New South Wales. They include both resident patients and patients on leave from the hospitals, but exclude voluntary patients (except as shown in Table 31) and the few patients from this State in South Australian hospitals. At 30th June, 1962, there were 13 State and 2 private mental hospitals.

† Class D, which related to wives whose husbands had been imprisoned for at least six months, was abolished in October, 1960. These women are now eligible for a Class A or Class B pension.

Notes:—

1. The classes of widows' pensions, and the maximum basic rates of pension since October, 1963, are:—

Class A. Widows with one or more dependent children: £7 15s. (pension, £5 15s.; mother's allowance, £2) per week, plus an additional 15s. a week for each dependent child. "Dependent children" are defined in note ‡, Table 42.

Class B. Widows with no dependent children and over age 50 years (45 years if they ceased to be a Class A widow because they no longer have a dependent child): £5 2s. 6d. per week.

Class C. Widows under age 50 years, with no dependent child, in necessitous circumstances following their husband's death: £5 2s. 6d. per week for, in general, up to six months after the husband's death.

From October, 1958, widow pensioners who pay rent and are considered to be entirely dependent on their pension may also receive supplementary assistance of 10s. per week.

2. The State of New South Wales supplements the pensions by allowances for children. At 30th June, 1963, 989 widows were receiving allowances, and the amount paid in 1962-63 was £46,762.

† Available to "single" pensioners (see note *). Only those who pay rent and are considered to be entirely dependent on their pension are eligible for the assistance.

‡ Dependent children. "Dependent children" are those who are being maintained by a pensioner and who are under age 16 years. From November, 1963, the scope of "dependent children" was extended to include full-time students who have not reached the end of the calendar year in which they attain age 18 years.

¶ Limit which, assuming the value of property is nil, permits payment of maximum pension.

§ Limit which, assuming income is nil, precludes payment of any pension. From November, 1963, the limit relates to a "single" pensioner; the limit for other pensioners remained at £4,750.

No. 5. Matrimonial Causes: Petitions Lodged and Decrees Granted, 1955 to 1962

Note. Jurisdiction in matrimonial causes was first conferred on the Supreme Court by the Matrimonial Causes Act passed by the State Parliament in 1873. Previously, marriages could be dissolved in New South Wales only by special Act of Parliament.

The State legislation being administered by the Court was superseded by the Matrimonial Causes Act which was passed by the Commonwealth Parliament in 1959 and which came into operation on 1st February, 1961. Where a matrimonial cause had been instituted under State legislation but not completed before 1st February, 1961, the transitional provisions of the 1959 Act gave petitioners the advantages of the new Act without detracting from their position under the former legislation.

The (Commonwealth) Matrimonial Causes Act, 1959, provided a uniform law throughout Australia with respect to divorce and other matrimonial causes. The Supreme Courts of the Australian States and Territories were invested with jurisdiction to hear and determine causes under the Act.

No. 3. Consumer Price Index, 1951 to 1963

Base of each Group Index: 1952-53 = 100.0

Note. The Consumer Price Index is designed to measure quarterly variations in the level of prices for commodities and services which represent a high proportion of the expenditure of wage earner households. Significant changes in the pattern of this expenditure have been reflected in the Index by the introduction, from time to time, of additional items and altered weighting patterns.

* The amounts shown to February, 1959, represent the basic wage together with so much of any margin and any further amount necessary to make the minimum wage payable equivalent to 75 per cent. of the basic wage for males. Following the increase in the basic wage to the 75 per cent. equivalent, the amount shown from February, 1959, is the basic wage exclusive of any margin. This change was applied in State Awards from different dates, beginning in March, 1959.

† Quarterly adjustments for movements in retail prices were discontinued in September, 1953, in both Commonwealth and State Awards. The were restored in State Awards in November, 1955.

No. 5. Weighted Average Minimum Weekly and Hourly Wage Rates, N.S.W., 1939 to 1963

Notes:—

1. The indexes of minimum wage rates embrace a representative range of occupations and are based on the occupation and industry structures in 1954. The weekly wage rates used in the indexes are the rates payable for a full week's work (excluding overtime), as prescribed in the relevant industrial awards, determinations, and agreements. The hourly wage rates are obtained by relating the weekly wage rates and the weekly hours of work prescribed in awards, etc. The rural industries are excluded from the indexes.

2. The money amounts shown should not be regarded as actual current averages, but as an index of changes expressed in money terms.

No. 7. Rates of Wages in Various Industries, Sydney, 1962 and 1963

Notes:—

1. Rates shown are those provided in awards, determinations, or agreements for a full week's work (excluding overtime) for adult employees in Sydney. For some occupations, there are various grades of work to which differential rates of wages apply. For these occupations, either two rates are shown (e.g. 350/- and 391/-), indicating there are only two grades of work, or a range of rates is shown (e.g. 352/6 to 381/-), indicating that there are more than two grades of work.
2. The forty-hour week was prescribed by Act of the Parliament of New South Wales as the standard for industries within State jurisdiction as from 1st July, 1947, and by judgment of the Commonwealth Court for persons working under Commonwealth awards and agreements from the first pay period in January, 1948. Except where indicated by footnote, the hours in industries for which wages are shown are 40 per week.
